

Statement
Curt Labitzke

Labitzke is a painter/printmaker living in The Pacific Northwest.

His work encompasses a variety of subject matter to include portraits, still life and most recently insects.

The works are characterized by expressive surfaces, a variety of mark-making systems and an active use of color. Bridging the gap between reference and representation, image and object, Labitzke's work asks us to contemplate and celebrate the world we see around us.