

BIO

Gabe Brown

Tucson, Arizona, 1967

Gabe Brown was born in Tucson, Arizona and raised in New York City. She received her BFA degree in 1989 from The Cooper Union and was awarded a Full Fellowship to attend the Skowhegan School of Painting and Sculpture. Two years later she received her MFA in Painting from the University of California, Davis.

She was recently awarded a fellowship at The Saltonstall Foundation in Ithaca, New York where she was a resident in August 2016 and in 2008 she was a Resident Fellow in Visual Arts at The Anderson Center at Tower View in Redwing, Minnesota. Her paintings and works on paper have been exhibited nationally in galleries and museums such as Kenise Barnes Contemporary Art, Samuel Dorsky Museum of Art, Butters Gallery, Matteawan Gallery, The Saratoga Arts Center, Garrison Arts Center, John Davis Gallery, ArtsWestchester, Schweinfurth Arts Center, SUNY Brockport, The Horticultural Society of New York, Albany International Airport, Sears-Peyton Gallery, and Carrie Haddad Gallery. In 2014 she was the recipient of the Sustainable Arts Foundation Award and chosen to be one of two artists for a public arts project for ArtBridge. She has been a juror for Epic Epoch Residency in New York City, The Sustainable Arts Foundation, and has curated three exhibitions at KMOCA for their 2015 season. Gabe Brown is an Adjunct Professor in Painting and Drawing at Fordham University and SUNY New Paltz where she has received three Merit Awards for Professional Achievement.

Gabe Brown lives and works in the Hudson Valley.