

Statement

Mary Finlayson

Mary Finlayson paintings are a celebration of color, pattern and form which navigate themes of home, memory, and self. Through flattened interiors, she provides viewers an intimate glimpse into homes as memories--often a departure from reality. She invites us to consider what home means to us, both in our past and in our idealized form.